Beforever

Melody 1964

A Teacher’s Guide to
No Ordinary Sound
A Melody Classic

Includes Common Core State Standards Correlations
About the Book
Growing up in Detroit in 1963, nine-year-old Melody Ellison is looking forward to singing a solo in the Youth Day program at church. Her family offers advice as she works to select—and perfect—the right song. Her brother, who wants to be a Motown star, tells her she must feel the lyrics. Her grandmother, a music teacher, helps her learn how to sing out. When her family attends the Walk to Freedom, Melody is inspired by the words of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. She’s also influenced by her oldest sister, a college student who is taking action to make things fair for black people. When Melody experiences discrimination herself, she decides to add her voice to those who are speaking up about civil rights by choosing a powerful song for Youth Day: “Lift Every Voice and Sing.” A few weeks before Melody’s solo, a church bombing in Birmingham kills four little girls. Melody is devastated. She can’t speak and she can’t sing. She can’t even walk into her own church. With her family’s love and patience, Melody finds her voice and the strength to use it.

About This Guide and the Common Core Standards
Elementary students often have some knowledge of the civil rights movement of the 1960s. The layered discussion questions ask students to think about racial discrimination and what it takes to change public opinion. There are natural connections to the language arts, social studies, science, art, drama, and music curricula. This guide encourages students to be careful readers without jeopardizing the pleasure they gain from reading. It is recommended that students read the entire book before engaging in a detailed study of the novel. This guide notes wherever an activity helps students achieve specific Common Core Standards. A key to the standards referenced is provided at the end of the guide.

A Note About Language
When Melody’s story takes place, the terms “Negro,” “colored,” and “black” were all used to describe Americans of African descent. All of those words are used in No Ordinary Sound. Today, “Negro” and “colored” can be offensive because they are associated with racial inequality. “African American” is a more contemporary term, but it wasn’t commonly used until the late 1980s.

Additionally, the term “Big Momma” is a sign of respect for Melody’s grandmother. It is not a reference to her size but to the fact that she’s the oldest mother in the family.

Pre-Reading Activity
Divide the class into small groups and give them the following vocabulary words to look up: civil rights, discrimination, segregation, Motown, activism, prejudice, stereotype, protest, boycott, integration, emancipation, oppression. Ask them to explain the definitions or give examples to the class.

Correlates to Common Core Language Arts Standards in Reading Informational Text: Key Ideas & Details RL.3-4.1, RL.3-4.2, RL.3-4.3; Writing: Text Types & Purposes W.3-4.2; Production & Distribution of Writing W.3-4.6; Research to Build & Present Knowledge W.3-4.7.
Thematic Connections

Family
Describe the Ellison family. What makes them a close-knit family? What are their values? How do Mr. and Mrs. Ellison instill these values in their children? Describe Melody, Dwayne, Lila, and Yvonne’s respect for their grandparents. Explain how Big Momma and Poppa support their grandchildren and contribute to raising them.

Sibling Relationships
Describe Melody, Lila, Dwayne, and Yvonne. Identify their talents. Big Momma says, “Everybody’s got a right to shine” (p. 12). How are Melody and her siblings each different in the way they “shine”? Melody and Dwayne have a special relationship. What factors contribute to their relationship? What does Yvonne contribute to the education of her younger siblings? Each of the Ellison children has important decisions to make. How do they help one another in the decision-making process? When Melody loses her voice before the Youth Day program, how do her siblings help her regain it?

Leadership
Miss Esther tells Melody, “You’re never too old or too young to stand up for justice” (p. 90). This story depicts different types of leaders and leadership: in the family, in the school and church, and at the community and national levels. Which leaders influence Melody? In what ways do they inspire her? One of the story’s themes is that bringing about change takes many kinds of leadership and contributions large and small. How does the story show this? In what ways does Melody stand up for what she believes?

Music
Discuss the role that music plays in the story. What impact does it have on Melody’s relationship with her brother and grandmother? How does Melody’s opinion of Diane change because of music? Why is Melody nervous about singing a solo if she’s comfortable singing in church? In what ways does Melody “use her voice”? Discuss what Dwayne means when he says, “I have to use my talent to become a famous singer if I want things to be different” (p. 105). Why does he think the music of Motown is his chance for freedom?

Racism
Define racism. Why was it racist for Poppa to be called “boy” (p. 16)? Explain why Big Momma and Poppa left Alabama. Discuss how the bank discriminates against Yvonne and why Melody decides to close her savings account at that bank. How does Melody’s memory of her experience with the soda machine in Alabama contribute to her thoughts and actions? Analyze Melody and Dwayne’s experience at Fieldston’s. What impact does this incident have on Melody? How are Val and her family victims of racism after they move to Detroit?

Activism/Protests
What does “activism” mean? How does Yvonne become an activist as a college student? Explain how her experience registering black people to vote causes her to continue her activism in Detroit in the summer of 1963. Discuss the symbolism of Yvonne’s Afro. What is the reaction of her family to this new hairstyle? How does Yvonne get her family involved in the Walk to Freedom in Detroit? Why are Charles and Tish reluctant to participate? Why is Dwayne? How do his views change by the end of the novel? Discuss Melody’s own form of protest against the bank that didn’t hire Yvonne.
Curriculum Connections

Language Arts
Ask students to read The Watsons Go to Birmingham–1963 by Christopher Paul Curtis. Then have them write a short essay that compares and contrasts the way Kenny and Melody each deal with the bombing of the 16th Street Baptist Church in Birmingham. Who helps them on their respective journeys?

Correlates to Common Core Language Arts Standards in Reading Literature: Integration of Knowledge & Ideas RL. 3-4.9; Writing: Text Types & Purposes W. 3-4.1.

Social Studies
Ask students to take a virtual field trip to the Birmingham Civil Rights Institute (www.bcri.org/index.html) or the National Civil Rights Museum (civilrightsmuseum.org). Instruct them to take notes on the exhibits and design a brochure or poster for schoolchildren about what they can expect to see.

Correlates to Common Core Language Arts Standards in Writing: Text Types & Purposes W. 3-4.2.

Define “historical fiction” and discuss which parts of Melody’s story really happened. Historical events referenced in her story include the Walk to Freedom (en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Detroit_Walk_to_Freedom), the March on Washington (www.history.com/topics/black-history/march-on-washington), and the 16th Street church bombing in Birmingham (www.nps.gov/subjects/black-history/march-on-washington), as well as the Children’s Crusade in Birmingham. Have students research one of these events and write a news story about it. Include who, what, when, where, and why, along with quotes by key personalities.

Correlates to Common Core Language Arts Standards in Writing: Text Types & Purposes W. 3-4.2; Research to Build & Present Knowledge W. 3-4.7, W. 3-4.9.

Art
Design a poster or sign that Melody might have carried in the Walk to Freedom. (Or if students prefer, they could design a poster calling attention to a current issue in their own community.) Have students look for examples of posters and signs in the websites listed above. Point out that effective signs and posters don’t have much text, often using only a few strong words or a simple image to make their point.

Correlates to Common Core Language Arts Standards in Reading Literature: Integration of Knowledge & Ideas RL. 3-4.7.

Music
Civil rights events almost always included singing of gospel and freedom songs. “We Shall Overcome” is often called the anthem of the civil rights movement. “Lift Every Voice and Sing,” sometimes called the Black National Anthem, is the song that Melody sings at Youth Day. Read aloud the scene at the beginning of chapter 11 (p. 116–118) where Melody and Yvonne discuss what the words mean. Then divide the class into small groups and ask them to listen to the song on this website: www.youtube.com/watch?v=ya7Bn7kPkJ0. Encourage the groups to discuss the meaning of the rest of the lyrics. Sing the song as a class.

Correlates to Common Core Language Arts Standards in Reading: Research to Build & Present Knowledge W. 3-4.8; Speaking & Listening: Comprehension & Collaboration SL. 3-4.1.

Listen to the sounds of Motown: www.youtube.com/playlist?list=PL48C34A43BD992628. Do the students recognize any artists or songs? Have students explore the Motown Museum at www.motownmuseum.org. After they read the History of Motown, have them write a paragraph about why they think Motown earned the distinction of “The Sound that Changed America.”
Drama
Melody’s family shares a meal every Sunday after church. Set a table in the classroom and have students role play the conversation the family has in chapter two. Students can read aloud the dialogue from the book as reader’s theater, or they can create their own dialogue to show how different characters in the story view segregation, discrimination, and activism. To relate this conversation to the present day, tell the class to imagine a reunion of Melody, Val, and their families today. Stage another dinner conversation that they might have about racial issues in today’s society. What has changed since 1964? What has not?

Have the class read aloud Dr. Martin Luther King’s “I Have a Dream” speech from the March on Washington (www.archives.gov/press/exhibits/dream-speech.pdf). Divide the speech into segments so that each student reads three or four sentences. After each paragraph or so, pause and discuss what Dr. King was saying, and how he said it. (This assignment might require more than one class session to complete.)

Vocabulary/Use of Language
The vocabulary in the novel isn’t difficult, but students should be encouraged to jot down unfamiliar words and try to define them using clues from the context. Such words may include: aroma (p. 3), wafted (p. 4), metronome (p. 40), corsage (p. 49), critique (p. 95), oppressed (p. 117), transform (p. 124), and lozenges (p. 185).

Internet Resources
• http://mlk-kpp01.stanford.edu/index.php/encyclopedia/encyclopedia/enc_march_on_washington_for_jobs_and_freedom/
  This site offers more information about the 1963 March on Washington for Freedom and Jobs.

  This site gives the lyrics of “Lift Every Voice and Sing.”

• https://www.motownmuseum.org
  This is the official Motown Museum site.

About the Author
Denise Lewis Patrick grew up in Natchitoches, Louisiana. Every week, Denise and her brother went to the library, where she would read and dream in the children’s room overlooking a wonderful river. She wrote and illustrated her first book when she was ten, sewing the pages together on her mom’s sewing machine. Today, Denise lives in New Jersey, but she loves returning to her hometown and taking her four sons to all the places she enjoyed as a child.

More Stories About Melody
• Never Stop Singing: A Melody Classic, Volume 2—Find out what happens after No Ordinary Sound.
• Music in My Heart: My Journey with Melody—A modern girl travels back in time to Melody’s world in this multiple-ending book.
Key to Common Core Standards Referenced in This Guide

Reading Literature

Key Ideas & Details

RL. 3-4.1 – Refer to details and examples in a text when explaining what the text says explicitly and when drawing inferences from the text.
RL. 3-4.3 – Describe in depth a character, setting, or event in a story or drama, drawing on specific details in the text.

Craft & Structure

RL. 3-4.4 – Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text.
RL. 3-4.5 – Describe the overall structure of a story, including describing how the beginning introduces the story and the ending concludes the action.
RL. 3-4.6 – Acknowledge differences in the points of view of characters, including speaking in a different voice for each character when reading dialogue aloud.

Integration of Knowledge & Ideas

RL. 3-4.7 – Make connections between the text of a story or oral presentation of the text, identifying where each version reflects specific descriptions and directions in the text.
RL. 3-4.9 – Compare and contrast the treatment of similar themes and topics (e.g., opposition of good and evil) and patterns of events.

Reading Informational Text

Key Ideas & Details

RL. 3-4.1 – Refer to details and examples in a text when explaining what the text says explicitly and when drawing inferences from the text.
RL. 3-4.2 – Determine the main idea of a text; recount the key details and explain how they support the main idea.
RL. 3-4.3 – Explain events, procedures, ideas, or concepts in a historic text, using language that pertains to time, sequence, and cause/effect.

Integration of Knowledge & Ideas

RL. 3-4.7 – Use information gained from illustrations (photographs) and the words in the text to demonstrate understanding of the text (e.g., interactive elements on Web pages).

Language

Conventions of Standard English

L. 3-4.1 – Demonstrate command of the conventions of standard English grammar and usage when writing or speaking.

Knowledge of Language

L. 3-4.3 – Use knowledge of language and its conventions when writing, speaking, reading, or listening.

Vocabulary Acquisition & Use

L. 3-4.4 – Determine or clarify the meaning of unknown and multiple-meaning words and phrases based on grade-level reading and content.
L. 3–4.5 – Demonstrate understanding of figurative language, word relationships, and nuances in word meaning.

Speaking & Listening

Comprehension & Collaboration

SL. 3–4.1 – Participate in collaborative conversations with diverse partners about grade-level topics and texts with peers and adults in small and large groups.

SL. 3–4.2 – Recount or describe key ideas or details from a text read aloud or information presented orally or through other media.

SL. 3–4.3 – Ask and answer questions about what a speaker says in order to clarify comprehension, gather additional information, or deepen understanding of a topic or issue.

Presentation of Knowledge & Ideas

SL. 3–4.4 – Tell a story or recount an experience with appropriate facts and relevant, descriptive details, speaking audibly in coherent sentences.

SL. 3–4.6 – Speak in complete sentences when appropriate to task and situation in order to provide requested detail or clarification.

Writing

Text Types & Purposes

W. 3–4.1 – Write opinion pieces on topics or texts, supporting a point of view with reasons.

W. 3–4.2 – Write informative/explanatory texts to examine a topic and convey ideas and information clearly.

W. 3–4.3 – Write narratives to develop real or imagined experiences or events, using effective technique, descriptive details, and clear event sequence.

Production & Distribution of Writing

W. 3–4.4 – With guidance and support from adults, produce writing in which the development and organization are appropriate to task and purpose.

W. 3–4.5 – With guidance and support from peers and adults, develop and strengthen writing as needed by planning, revising, and editing.

W. 3–4.6 – With guidance and support from adults, use technology to produce and publish writing (using keyboarding skills) as well as to interact and collaborate with others.

Research to Build & Present Knowledge

W. 3–4.7 – Conduct short research projects that build knowledge through investigation of different aspects of a topic.

W. 3–4.8 – Recall relevant information from experiences or gather relevant information from print and digital sources; take notes and categorize information, and provide a list of sources.

W. 3–4.9 – Draw evidence from literary or informational texts to support analysis, reflection, and research.
BeForever is American Girl’s line of historical fiction for young readers. Originally conceived and developed by a former classroom teacher, the books are grounded in thorough historical research and bring history to life for children.

BeForever is about making connections. It’s about giving young readers opportunities to explore the past, find their place in the present, and think about the possibilities the future can bring. And it’s about seeing the common thread that ties children from all times together. The BeForever characters stand up for what they care about most: helping others, protecting the earth, overcoming injustice. Through the characters’ stories, young readers today discover how staying true to their own beliefs will help make their world better today—and tomorrow.

Find Teacher’s Guides to all the BeForever characters at www.americangirl.com/guides

Developed by Pat Scales, Children’s Literature Consultant, Greenville, SC.

Advisory committee: Brenda Autz, Park Elementary School, Cross Plains, WI; Susan Hamblin, Teacher-Leader Social Studies, retired, Madison (WI) Metropolitan School District; Jennifer Hylbert, Park Elementary School, Cross Plains, WI; and Kristen McDaniel, Social Studies Consultant, Wisconsin Dept. of Public Instruction.